Instauration and story On August 20, 1920, a confluence was held by representatives of the Akron Pros, Canton Bulldogs, Cleveland Indians, and Dayton Triangles at the Jordan and Hupmobile car showroom in Canton, Ohio.[12] This get together resulted in the establishment of the American Professional Football Conference (APFC), a aggroup who, according to the Canton Evening Repository, intended to "erect the measure of professional person football in every fashion possible, to get rid of command for players betwixt contender clubs and to ensure cooperation in the organisation of schedules".[13] Some other encounter was held on September 17, 1920 with representatives from teams from foursome states: Akron, Canton, Cleveland, and Dayton from Ohio; the Hammond Pros and Muncie Flyers from Indiana; the Rochester Jeffersons from New York; and the Rock Island Independents, Decatur Staleys, and Racine (Chicago) Cardinals from Illinois.[14][15] The league was renamed to the American Professional Football Association (APFA).[13] The league elected Jim Thorpe as its showtime chairperson, and consisted of 14 teams (the Buffalo All-Americans, Chicago Tigers, Columbus Panhandles, and Detroit Heralds united the alliance during the yr). The Massillon Tigers from Massillon, Ohio was too bad at the September 17 meeting, simply did non compos mentis force field a team in 1920. Only when two dollar bill of these teams, the Decatur Staleys (immediately the Chicago Bears) and the Chicago Cardinals (nowadays the Arizona Cardinals), persist. [16] The Akron Pros won the number one APFA (NFL) Championship. Although the conference did not keep up official standings for its 1920 inaugural time of year and teams played schedules that included non-league opponents, the APFA awarded the Akron Pros the backing by virtue of their 8â€³ (8 wins, 0 losses, and 3 ties) disk.[17] The low affair occurred on September 26, 1920 when the Rock Island Independents disappointed the non-league St. Paul Ideals 48â€³ at Douglas Park.[12][18] On October 3, 1920, the world-class fully workweek of conference playing period occurred.[19][20] The pursuit harden resulted in the Chicago Staleys polemically winning the title of respect ended the Buffalo All-Americans.[21] On June 24, 1922, the APFA changed its name to the National Football League (NFL).[22][23]
